7. Opinion of the company directors

The Company's Board of Directors, excluding directors with conflicts of interest, has considered entering into this transaction. which is a transaction providing financial assistance to subsidiaries which is not in accordance with the Company's investment proportion The Board of Directors is of the opinion that entering into the transaction is necessary and reasonable. This is because providing a loan limit will help MUD have a reserve source of funds for enhancing liquidity in business operations. and increasing options for finding sources of financing besides borrowing money from financial institutions and issuing debentures Including the option to choose loan terms such as interest rates. and the use of collateral, etc., where the company can use land as collateral for borrowing from financial institutions and may receive a better interest rate offer. Having more borrowing options gives MUD more options in managing its financing costs. This will be beneficial to the operating results of the group of companies as a whole.

As for the conditions and limits of financial assistance, The committee is of the opinion that it is reasonable. This is because the Company will consider granting MUD a loan only when the Company Have sufficient cash flow for operations And lending must not affect the company's spending plan. The committee will carefully consider each loan. By considering from cash flow Liquidity from cash and income at the company Expected to receive after deducting expenses, investment plan, and budget plan of the company. to expenses that must be paid within the time period for which the loan will be given. However, each loan must not affect the investment and payment plans of the Company. Including, it must not affect any other financial conditions according to the company's financial contract.

For the benefits of the company will receive and risk from entering into that transaction The committee is of the opinion that The main purpose of granting this loan to MUD is to provide financial assistance to subsidiaries that are the main businesses of the Group. And even if it is a loan line without collateral, which may cause the company There is a risk in the event that MUD is unable to repay the loan. But the committee has considered MUD's performance and is of the opinion that during the past year MUD's operating performance tends to improve and profits before financial costs and taxes increase from better cost management. MUD has more options for finding loan sources with more appropriate interest rates. Helps MUD manage financial costs more efficiently and results in being able to return to profit faster. This will ultimately have a positive impact on the operating results of the Group of Companies.

Meeting of the Board of Directors Therefore, there was a resolution approving the company. enter into the said transaction

1.3 Industry trends and future competition conditions

Warehouse and wharf business

Warehouses in Thailand can be divided into 3 main types:

- 1) Warehouses that the owner has for his own use, such as factory warehouses. Department stores, importers and exporters, etc. Any period that is left over may also be rented out.
- 2) Warehouses that the owner has specifically for rent, that is, not intended for personal use. But it is intended to be rented to entrepreneurs according to item 1 who do not have their own warehouses.
- 3) Registered warehouses It is a warehouse that must be registered with the Ministry of Commerce. According to the Warehouse, Silo and Cold Storage Act B.E. 2015, warehouses can be rented and goods can be stored by issuing warehouse receipts and Warranty slip given to the depositor which the depositor can use to make legal transactions regarding transfer of ownership of goods and pawning of goods

Over the past 10 years, the demand for warehouse space has continually increased, that is, it has increased in line with the economic growth of the country. And it is likely that warehouses with good standards and large sea ports next to the Chao Phraya River will become more and more important as many older warehouses have switched to other areas of business that are more profitable. Including hotels, condominiums, and office buildings, etc.

in the medium and long term Warehouse businesses that have good standards are likely to continue to grow well, that is, they must grow in tandem with the country's gross product. The amount of imported and exported goods of the country has increased. This causes the demand for warehouse space to increase as well. While warehouse space in Bangkok and surrounding areas adjacent to the banks of the Chao Phraya River tends to decrease Meanwhile, new warehouse opportunities Where there is a pier, it will be very difficult. Because there are limitations in terms of location, price of land, and buildings. Therefore, new warehouses are likely to emerge in the outskirts of Bangkok. More in other provinces such as Phra Nakhon Si Ayutthaya, Ang Thong, Chonburi and Chachoengsao, etc. and are warehouses that do not have a dock (Inland Warehouse).

For the business of providing document storage services It is consistent with the economic situation. and is likely to continue to grow Although the development of technology has made the cost of storing documents in electronic media cheaper, and facilitates document storage and searching Including the Electronic Transactions Act of 2001 and the amended version of 2008, it allows information to be stored in electronic form according to the criteria specified by law. shall be considered to have been presented or kept as an original document according to law But companies Still recognize the importance of storing original documents in paper form. Because it is consistent with the company's internal rules. and create more confidence when used in legal matters compared to electronic documents.

The document storage business in Thailand is starting to have more entrepreneurs. But it is still a business that has a relatively high barrier to entry for new competitors, that is, entrepreneurs must have specific expertise in management. Speed of service and has space to be used as a large document archive Including providing services in a new way that replaces document storage services with document scanning services to store documents in electronic form. and cloud storage services

Food and beverage business

The food service business in Thailand is a straightforward business. As a result, there are new entrepreneurs continuously entering the industry. For this reason, the competition in the restaurant business is quite high. There are new entrepreneurs continuously entering the industry. As a result, the restaurant business is highly competitive. This causes some entrepreneurs to close down their businesses. Therefore, entrepreneurs must rely on effective management and control. as well as an understanding of changing consumer behavior To maintain and expand the customer base Including continuing to create brand value.

Center for Economic and Business Research Siam Commercial Bank (SCB EIC) views that the food service business is likely to continue to recover well. The market value is expected to grow approximately 11% in 2024 due to the continued expansion of private consumption. An increase in the number of tourists and economic stimulus policies from the government In the medium term, it is expected to continue growing at an average growth rate of 8% per year during 2025-2027, supported by the number of tourists and improved purchasing power. In addition, most food service businesses have adapted to meet consumer needs since the COVID-19 outbreak by increasing sales channels both online and offline. As a result, there are channels to increase income growth from a wider variety of customers. However, there are still factors that are expected to affect the business that need to be followed, such as the policy to increase wages will cause costs to increase accordingly. This is because the food service business is a business that relies on a large number of minimum wage workers. In addition, the food service business faces more intense competition. from new players entering the market

The main supporting factors affecting the expansion and competition of Thailand's food service industry include consumer behavior that favors eating out. Increased income levels of target customers Urban expansion and housing (Urbanization) and the expansion of foreign tourists both in Bangkok and in important provinces, etc.

Lifestyle business

A lifestyle business is a retail business that offers a variety of products such as clothing, innerwear, sneakers, perfumes, leather goods, jewelry, eyeglasses, and household appliances. home decorations, etc. There are also a variety of customer groups as well. Which is divided according to various characteristics such as age, gender, place of residence, lifestyles, etc. Therefore, competition in this business is high from many entrepreneurs and the entry of new entrepreneurs. The Company is aware of the increased competition. climb By continuously developing the brand to be popular among target customers.

Trust administration and management business

Carrying out business as a trust administrator As a REIT manager It is a business with a relatively specific market and not much competition. Because there are quite a lot of government regulations to regulate it. and must receive approval from the SEC before operating a business. However, this business is a business with good, consistent income and low risk. This is because the assets under management are of high value.
